

The parties agree and represent to the Court that the aforementioned deviation factor(s) and/or criteria have a total monetary value of $_____ per month in current child support and/or $_____ per month in cash medical support, OR a total percentage value of _____% in current child support and/or _____% in cash medical support. The parties request the Court adopt these amounts for purposes of computing a deviation from guideline child support. [Only use this paragraph if you are able to apply the monetary value/percentage value of the deviation].

Therefore, effective _____, a child support order in the deviated amount of $_____ per month, plus processing fees, is ordered. Of said amount, $_____ per month is current child support and $_____ per month is cash medical support, plus processing fees.
